Accreditation

The American College of Greece is accredited by The New England Commission on Higher Education (NECHE) and its degree programs are validated by The Open University (OU) in the United Kingdom.

Credit System

ACG requires that students complete 121 US credits in order to meet the bachelor's degree requirements. Most courses carry 3 credits, thus students need to have satisfactorily completed 40 courses to be eligible for graduation. Science courses, which include lab hours, carry 4 credits, whereas some courses can carry 1 or 2 credits.

A student may register for up to 15 credits in the Fall/Spring semesters, and up to 6 credits in each Summer session.

Grading System

For academic regulations on grading, refer to page 43 of our Undergraduate Online Catalog and Student Handbook: www.acg.edu/undergraduate/undergraduate-program

Course Selection

Students should work with their advisor at their home institution to ensure that the courses they wish to take are approved for transfer.

Course schedules:

Language Courses

For information on courses offered through ACG's Department of Foreign Languages visit: www.acg.edu/dereeacg/course_search.php

Tuition & Fees Transcript

For tuition and fees information visit: www.acg.edu/admissions/study-abroad/tuition-fees-us-students

We provide an official transcript as part of the Study Abroad comprehensive fee. We ask our partners to provide the mailing address where official transcripts should be sent following the completion of the student's semester or session at ACG.

Visa Requirements

All non-EU/EEA students must obtain a student visa in order to study in Greece. This process usually starts 10 weeks prior to the beginning of the ACG term a student plans to attend. www.acg.edu/admissions/study-abroad/student-visa

Accommodation

For information on housing visit: www.acg.edu/admissions/study-abroad/housing-at-acg

Health Services

Health services to students are offered through ACG's Health & Wellness Center, as well as cooperating hospitals and physicians easily accessible from ACG.

Orientation

Orientation is mandatory for all students. Each term's orientation dates are included in the academic calendar.
